

Men of 91st. Arrive, Including Many of Boys From Ogden

NEW YORK, March 31.—Among the 9647 troops who returned today from France were detachments of the 363rd and 364th infantry regiments, which were part of the Ninety-first division, trained at Camp Lewis, Wash.

The regiments went overseas with the Wild West division, which is composed of national army men of eight western states, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, California, Washington, Oregon and the territory of Alaska, all of the men having come from the first draft of September, 1917. They were on the naval transport Siboney, and were met by relatives and friends from the west who had been waiting in New York for several days to greet them. The western warriors have their divisional insignia, the green fir tree, painted on their trench helmets and embroidered on their shoulders.

The Ninety-first division took 2390 German prisoners, 409 machine guns and a large number of field guns and tanks, and its losses were 1160 killed or died of wounds and missing and 5000 wounded. One of its men won the congressional medal of honor, twenty-two the distinguished service cross, nineteen Belgian war crosses and eleven the French croix de guerre, a regular army officer, said that the Ninety-first division sailed in the first week of last July under command of Major General William M. Johnston, and, after six weeks' training in France, were called into action as part of the first American army in the attack on St. Mihiel. From there the division, he said, went to the Argonne on September 26, where it remained until October 11, when orders came to advance into the enemy territory, and, after marching eight miles, the Ninety-first joined the Belgian army under command of King Albert. Later they took part in the Ypres offensive with the British on one side of them and the French on the other, and, in the general attack on October 31, they captured the heavily fortified Spitaels Dosschen woods and advanced thirteen kilometers into the enemy lines. It crossed the Scheldt river and captured the ancient city of Audenarde, liberating thousands of Belgians who did not know American soldiers were in Belgium.

discussing this unity of interests. "There was a time when screenings were almost waste, being used almost entirely for chicken feed. Their value has been proven for livestock feeding. The same is true of molasses from the sugar factories. Now the molasses is being saved as a very valuable by-product, for it is needed for proper mixing of feed. These two ingredients, with alfalfa, make a splendid feed.

"Ogden already has one very large plant of this kind, for the making of livestock feed. The upbuilding of this plant and the development of others is almost certain to come as Utah progresses. There is one feature of importance, these screenings will be from wheat of the Ogden districts, formerly shipped some distance away and then reshipped to Ogden. The freight cost both coming and going will be saved when the necessary amount of screenings are provided in Ogden."

Japanese Must Be Kept Back, Says Senator Phalan

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 31.—The Japanese, "the Germans of the orient," have carried forward their plan to "Japanize America" so far that it is necessary for California to start a counter movement of propaganda, U. S. Senator James D. Phelan told members of the legislature here to night at a public meeting.

The senator urged enactment of more drastic laws which he said the late Theodore Roosevelt had justified by the statement that Japan herself had erected barriers to protect herself against Chinese coolies.

"Talk to your returning troops," said Senator Phelan in contending that "almost any league of nations is better than none. Only the academic laugh at wounds; only those who have no wounds urge constitutional reasons and the traditions of the past as arguments against an international covenant to end war."

DEBS THREATENS TO CALL FOR A GENERAL STRIKE

AKRON, Ohio, March 31.—Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader, today threatened to call a general strike of the party throughout the country unless he is granted a rehearing in the courts upon charges on which he was convicted of violating the espionage act.

Debs was confined to his bed with a bad attack of lumbago at the home of Mrs. Margaret Prevey, here, when notified that the United States supreme court had refused him a rehearing. He refused to see newspapermen, but through Mrs. Prevey issued the following statement to the press:

"The matter is in the hands of my attorney, Seymour Steadman, of Chicago. I do not know what legal action they will follow, as I have received no word from them as yet. "Unless something further can be done, the program of the party to tie up the country in a general strike will be fulfilled. I am prepared to fight to the end."

Mrs. Prevey said Debs' condition is not serious and that he will be able to be out within a few days.

Soldiers Arrive After a Stormy Voyage at Sea

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—After encountering a hurricane three days, the steamer Galesburg, an army cargo carrier bringing twenty-one casualties of the 42nd sanitary squad, twenty-ninth division, in charge of Major Ralph E. Balch, Kalamazoo, Mich., of the medical corps, docked here today. The vessel bore evidence of a severe struggle with heavy seas. The lifeboat was washed overboard and a masthead light was gone. The decks were covered with water the greater part of the time. During the height of the storm, the soldiers, under orders of Captain Herman Doyle, commander of the vessel, donned life jackets and wore them continually.

G. W. SULLEY HEARD ON EFFICIENCY, AT TABERNACLE

A large number of the Ogden merchants attended the lecture given last night at the Tabernacle by G. W. Sulley, business lecturer of the National Cash Register company. Mr. Sulley delivered his lecture to a crowded house. His subject was "The Troubles of a Merchant and How to Stop Them." The lecture was illustrated with stereopticon views and a three-reel movie, the latter showing how a merchant was almost induced, through poor management, inefficient clerks, poor storekeeping in general and poor advertising in particular, to give up his career as a merchant. By adopting up-to-date business methods, however, his troubles are over and he went forward into a successful career.

Besides the lecture a musical program was given, which was as follows: "Americans, Come," Mrs. Fred Hess; "Dear Old Pal of Mine," Miss Dorothy Wright.

Mrs. Hess led the audience in the rendition of "America."

Mr. Sulley will speak at the Tabernacle again this evening and the following musical numbers will be presented:

"The Old Fashioned Home," Miss Vera Jones. Miss Jones also led the audience in the singing of "America."

The young lady across the way says her father is going to obey the dry law in letter and spirit and if we could see all he's got in the cellar already she guesses we wouldn't think he would ever be tempted to patronize any bootleggers.

AVENUE WILL NOT BE CLOSED TO PUBLIC

Pacific avenue is not to be closed by the erection of the Sperry mill. The Ogden Union Railway & Depot company has granted a right of way to Ogden City for a highway to extend west of the mill site, which includes Union avenue which was vacated for a short distance and which formerly connected portions of Pacific avenue. The right of way was accepted last night by the city commissioners.

By-Products of Elevators Can Be Used in Ogden

A number of by-products will result from the operation of the several mills in Ogden, according to E. C. Waugh, construction engineer of the Globe Grain and Milling company, who is handling the construction work on the large Globe plant here.

"Scravings from wheat, molasses from the sugar factory and alfalfa make a splendid feed for livestock," said the milling company expert in
